

Yelena Andreichenko
PhD in Russian philology

Was born in 1982 13th of April (Almaty, Kazakhstan).

- Since 2010 has been a lecturer at the Faculty of Slavic Studies of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens. Academic curriculum teaching subjects are: the Russian lexicology and Lexicography, the Stylistics of Russian language, the Theory and Practice of Translation, the Methodology of Teaching of Russian as a Foreign Language, the Basics of Writing a Scientific Research and the Russian as a Foreign Language.
- 2003 Bachelor`s degree of Kazakh National University named after al-Farabi (A marks).
- 2005 Master`s degree (the same university).
- 2007 PhD theme dissertation “The returned lexicon of Russian language in the end of XX century: language position, socio and culture determination, functions” (the same university).
- 2012 Research-monograph “Greek language loans of orthodox-ecclesiastic field in the history of Russian language” National and Kapodistrian University of Athens.
- 30 published scientific articles (Russia, Greece, Cyprus, Kazakhstan, China, Bulgaria, Hungary, Georgia, Austria and Romania).
- Participation in 16 international scientific conferences and in 4 scientific international seminars.
- 2 scholarships of Hellenic Republic (2006 for one month – studying Greek language at the university of Thessaloniki- 2007 – Postdoctoral Scholarship of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Greece).
- Translations of Greek poetry (2 collections: “Aeolus from the Steppe” - Almaty, Kazakhstan 2008 and “From A to Ω: 24 myths” - Helsinki, Finland, 2013).
- Published prose in the international magazine of Russian literature “Under the United Sky” (Saint Petersburg – Helsinki: 2010-2012).
- Creating a Catalogue of old greek books deposited at the National Library of Kazakhstan, since early 19th century and organized a book exhibition under the guidance of the ambassador of the Greece in Kazakhstan Mr. Kontovounisios, in 2007 in Almaty.
- Member of the National Literary Society of Russia.
- In charge of translating to Russian language the official site of Jerusalem Patriarchate.

Speaking languages: Russian, Greek, and English.

Athens, April 2014